Nova Scotia can't afford better public services? HOW'S THAT?

There's more wealth in this province and country than ever before!

When you see school closures, delays to health services, and deteriorating infrastructure, do you wonder about government claims that our tax dollars are not sufficient to sustain better public services?

This award-winning, hard-hitting Canadian documentary film looks at how corporations and wealthy individuals avoid paying taxes by creating offshore tax havens, and how this practice erodes the very foundation of democracy.

A discussion with Howard Epstein of Nova Scotians for Tax Fairness will follow each film screening.
